DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 35-36 have been considered but are not persuasive.

Examiner maintains the arguments set forth in the previous office action mailed 2/17/10. In further response to Applicant's arguments at pages 8-9 of the most recently filed Remarks, Examiner maintains that page 10 lines 22-23 sets forth the context of page 10 lines 30-36 which Applicant suggests is a disclosure of an "open-ended" method of providing the function of splitting. Page 10 lines 22-23 explicitly state "Numerous means for rendering the graft material 18 able to be cohesively disassembled can be contemplated." Page 10 lines 23-36 continue with descriptions of two mechanical methods of weakening the graft material in various patterns. Page 11 lines 1-23 clearly describe another embodiment solely reliant on anisotropic properties. Page 11 lines 24-36 clearly describe another embodiment relying solely on a composite of resorbable and non-resorbable materials. Examiner maintains this disclosure does not suggest Applicant's invention contemplated cohesive disassembly via either of the two mechanical means at page 10 lines 23-36 (or likewise the resorbable/non-resorbable technique) in combination with anisotropic material.

Applicant further argues one of ordinary skill would understand how to combine the two techniques and provides balsa wood planes as an example. In response thereto, Examiner considers these arguments to support that the disclosure could render obvious the combination but this evidence does not remedy the fact that the disclosure does not support the claimed combination of distinctly disclosed embodiments.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 35-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The specification as originally filed failed to disclose an embodiment combining the features of perforations or patterns extending through only a portion of the graft material, in combination with anisotropic material, as claimed. Examiner maintains the disclosure at pages 10-11 describe four distinct embodiments which are not described as combinable to provide the removable function as claimed.

Conclusion

All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
